_____

Our teamspeak server has become public apparently. Somebody was able to get on the server and kicked everyone who was on at the time (Rift players and jonny and oli) His name was something like kingprawn or something? I do not know the whole story as i was not on at the time. It happened yesterday. Other details seem to of escaped me. If anyone knows anything else please add.

_____

That's rather strange, how was he able to kick with server admin or channel admin status =/

I have re-added the password - not sure why it disappeared? I know there was a few updates recently, perhaps one knocked out the pass?
