I am doubtful that Anubis is a wallhacker as i have played with him several times and haven't noticed anything suspect. Also i beleive he has been in the community for quite a long time?

Having said this, Art must of thought he was suspect hence the ban, so we will simply have to look at the demo.

yep played with him allot ;p gotta say he is 1 of the guys who can actuelly kill me on wcs =D and yeah he was around same time like me maybe bit earlier ?

I have the same opinion as AL Azif and eskimo. I although played a few times with Anubis on the WCS Server and can't believe that he's a wallhacker.

Sorry about the immatureness and moodiness in my last post, this ban has really annoyed me and i got too far ahead of myself

Wallhack, I spec him for some time on the map and saw clear evidence of wallhack. I check my demo and didn't come off though, so I have no evidence but my word. However, wallhacking is really hard to demo anyway as it is hard to reveal when done by an experienced player. If this is cause to end the ban then fine but I for one will be looking to get another demo. Some of the things he was doing like leaving a defuse to travel to where the t was (far away) was a joke and out of ear shot. How did he know where players were all the time when he was the last map so they were not on radar? This is the preferential hack of an experienced player because it is so hard to demonstrate. I know what I saw...

well no evidence is no ban so ban is gonna be lifted.

when new evidence (demo) is here. we can take a new look at it but before that time have fun playing anubis so art if you could be so kind to lift it

I would like to add that as an admin I have seen him on other servers doing the same stuff, this is not for me an isolated incident.
