So you can actually buy weapons that you unlock for 7$...

Makes me wonder what kind of idiot will buy it when you can get every single weapon in like a day...

Well it would be interesting for players like me that haven't touched the game in a while and are waaaaay behind on unlocks. Or people that prefer a certain gun and just want to get it from start.

But I doubt I will buy it since all games I have on Origin are just collecting dust atm..

So you would waste 28$ for all of the weapons instead of actually playing the game and earning them by your self in like a day?

I wouldnt earn them in a day. I played the game for a month before putting it away and only got to rank 14 or something. I just didnt play enough hours to enjoy it. And as I said I wouldnt buy it cause I dont play the game anymore. I just meant that I think other players that are casual gamers like me might buy it..

I can only see it a monetizing machine to allow noobs to play more with pretty weapons.

The only kit that wepaons actaully matter is the recon because of the bolt action and the auto snipers. other classes get the best weapons right at the beginning.

Necroposting ALERT!

None, I don't play bf3 😞
In fact, I don't play online fps anymore, due to my age, the average time alive is around 3 seconds... 😞
