i would like if we can get a more worlds. such as a pvp world (40k) with player kill ranking? then a creative survival. even just a creative. then have a portal room that leads to all the worlds. i know it would be alot of work but it would also bring in alot of players. i dont know what size server we use or if its on a dedicated machine. i would donate, i know some of us talked about it but i havnt herd anything more on it.

A PvP world is kinda cool, but also kinda pointless since the whole world is essentially PvP anyway (and a PK raking would require another plugin).

We have thought about a creative world, but still haven't come up with a way we want to implement it, so that probably won't happen for a while/at all.
