Hackers on the server!

Posted by Casores - 16 Aug 2012 22:55

_____

well to put it easy there are people with invisible hack on the server, lets do the whole story...

lunarbomb came into the server and we all welcomed him, what we didnt know was that he is a hacker.

Alazylumer killed him once but then he came back invisible and alazy got killed because he couldnt see what he was hitted by, this happened around 3 times. my faction leader abvesco thought he was skilled so added him to our faction. big mistake as he plundered our base within seconds.then left and put the plundered goods away, it was ALLOOOOT. abvesco thought he could jail him. but he did not have permission once he /f homed again after putting the good away he brought 2 friends they decided to camp our base with invisibleness. We ofcourse stood no chance the players with the hack are

Lunarbomb

thesaadmonkey

juggernaut70

after being killed over a 100 times we just gave up and i decided to make this post =D

================================================================================

Re: Hackers on the server!

Posted by iMattR - 16 Aug 2012 23:09

_____

Right, two of the people you mentioned are now banned for being hacked client douchebags - however, the last one, I have no solid evidence of. Take better screenshots next time - that seems to just be three windows stacked on top of each other?

================================================================================