Oh yeah folks, yes, I'm also still here.

For anyone reading this

Any sugestions on games that can run on a linux server? Like Rust, would that engage people to make something?!

Cheers folks!

Believe it or not...

I'll run this site until I'm dead.. and was about.. like.. 1 year I've checked it 😊

Totally up for doing a TWK revival!

@Tunes if you need a hand with anything, bud, lmk, got one of the servers running a private WoW instance atm 🍷

I mentioned it earlier in the thread but not sure if you read it. Do you by any chance have the old twkgaming world? (the beta one). Ive lost all my old worlds and I reckon i'd die of nostalgia if I were able to walk through the shitty mushroom base me and my mates built back then. Not a problem if you've lost the saves, it was a hell of a long time ago now.

It would be great if the old servers could be up for download. I would love to revisit after all these years. And I'm still around.

It's my goal to continue to recheck this as long as I can. To anyone who remembers me and the server, this was a very memorable time in my life, I spent a good chunk of my time on this server and it introduced me to several new people. I'm thankful I was introduced to this community.

Yo! 🍷
, reckon we can get an SSL certificate on this site? plaintext isn't safe lol, at least like letsencrypt or something

I know PositiveSSL can do an SSL certificate for cheap if its that big an issue but realistically this site is mainly an archive at this point. The password I use for this site was ruined by the shotbow leak so it doesn't affect me. it does always cheer me up to see the site still up.
