Well, we want everything bigger and bigger (especially the US), and we take up loans that we can't really pay back (especially the US). Just think about it, it's a lot of inhabitant in the US.

I hope for US sake that Obama keeps a leash on the country and try to be the second(!) president that draw back troops and dont start wars..Bill Clinton was the first. They need to be more open and friendly towards the world. California is the only state in US that has signed the Kyoto agreement since US refused.
