

TWK Revival!

Posted by VooDoo - 16 Nov 2017 17:31

So... Me and a few other TWK members are still active and still play games together and were thinking.. we could really do with getting this TWK community back active! We're hoping to get some servers back up and hoping to get a/the community up and running again!

as mentioned in another topic/thread we have a Teamspeak server, still active with quite a few members!

london1.teamspeak.net:31994 is the IP... No password.

IF you're up for joining/contributing/helping then hit us up because that's our goal!

Post in this thread,join us on teamspeak or add me on steam!

Thanks!

Heyy !

Yep, I'm still alive 😊

Yep, this site still runs, amazing to login and click new posts and actually see something there 😊

How are you all folks?

About reviving twkgaming, well, it's here for takers, I don't have the time required to much more than support the web services and maybe one ts server, maybe I'll fire up one on my other server, it has still resources to run one TS.

What you guys need to do to the site, I can help with the underlying system, in fact, I have this very old machine, only to run this site and other small things needed to my company and web presence.

I'm still waiting for the server to come back. I've been refreshing the server list for years.

I took sometime off waiting for the server to come back online and quickly spent 4 1/2 years getting my Bachelors Degree. Got a degree in geology. Guess I liked breaking rocks and finding metals and gems so much I'm making a career out of it lol.
